Michael Khoo Library
- Historical Collection

Have you ever wondered how operating instruments were sterilised in 1920?

Rowlands & Turner: The Operations of Surgery — 1927
Has a fascinating chapter on the process

How about nursing practice from the 1960s?

Nursing Service Administration: Principles & Practice - 1962 will answer this interesting question.

What was new in obstetric practice in 1957?

This Historical Collection holds great information for researchers, those undertaking study or just interested in the changes in medical practice and patient care.

The collection may not be borrowed but through the library Literature Search Service you may request information which can be scanned & emailed to you.

OR drop into the Michael Khoo Library Thursdays (9.30am – 3.30pm) & have a look!
The following journals have been added for 2009. Journals can not be borrowed but you can register to have the contents pages of any of these journals sent to you in print or electronic format—register by using the Journal Alert Service Form located on the Macarthur/Bowral Library Intranet site.

Asia Pacific Journal of Human Resources (held at Campbelltown)
This is an applied, peer-reviewed journal which aims to communicate the development & practice of the field of human resources within the Asia Pacific region. The journal publishes the results of research, theoretical & conceptual developments & examples of current practice.

Australian Social Work (held at Campbelltown)
This is a peer-reviewed journal reflecting the current thinking & trends in social work. It promotes the development of practice, policy & education & publishes original research, theoretical papers & critical reviews.

The Journals of Gerontology—Series A (Biological Sciences) (held at Campbelltown)
This journal publishes articles on the biological aspects of ageing in areas such as biochemistry, biodemography, cellular & molecular biology, endocrinology, exercise science, genetics, immunology, morphology, nutrition, pathology, pharmacology, physiology & biological underpinnings of late life diseases.

TOCS - Journal table of Contents Service
http://www.tictocs.ac.uk/
This is a free table of contents service.
- ticTOCs is easy to use, and it’s free.
- Find scholarly journal Table of Contents (TOCs) from publishers.
- View the latest TOC for each journal.
- Link to the full text of articles (where institutional or personal subscription allows).
- Export TOC feeds to popular feedreaders.
- Select and save journal titles to view future TOCs (Register to ensure your MyTOCs are permanently saved).

You will require internet access if at work or set your own MyTOCs at home & keep up with your favourite journal titles.

Remember—if you can’t access the full-text article just complete the Journal Article Request Form from our Intranet or Internet site & we will endeavour to obtain the article for you.

This is a great Free Website put together by a consortium of:
University of Liverpool, Heriot Watt University, CrossRef ProQuest, Emerald, MIMAS, Institute of Physics, SAGE Publishers, Cranfield University, Interscience Publishers, Directory of Open Access, Open J-Gate, Intute
JOURNAL ARTICLES OF INTEREST FROM—ProQuest - Health & Medical Database

The following articles have been selected from ProQuest a database of electronic journals available through any of the library’s nine PCs.

If you would like a copy of any of these articles please complete an interactive “Journal Article Request Form” located on the Library’s intranet/internet pages.
