

Community and staff attend our second pop-up

Members of the community and hospital staff attended our second pop-up stall in the foyer of Bankstown-Lidcombe Hospital which showcased the artist's impression of the interior and exterior of the new emergency department.

There was lots of interest around the increase in clinical treatment spaces and a separate paediatric area located away from the adult waiting room. The feedback around these changes has been very positive and we are excited to showcase project updates when they become available.

First steps have commenced with fencing coming soon!

Exciting changes have been taking place at the hospital. Areas have been cleared to make way for brand new amenities for emergency department staff. New amenities include a tutorial room and an open plan office with a quiet space.

We are now seeing the start of some site activity including temporary fencing. Keep an eye out for new signage and wayfinding at the entry of the hospital and the emergency department and please take care in your movements around the construction site.

Stay tuned for updates on the contractor team and their roles in this exciting project.
