

BOWLING LIKE CHAMPIONS

TONY IBRAHIM

Cabra-Vale Diggers president George Taylor with Kags Garrard and Gregory Webb from Liverpool Hospital. Picture: Robert Pozo

THE rain thinned crowd numbers and pushed the charitable game of lawn bowls indoors at Cabra Vale Diggers on Friday.

But those that braved the weather welcomed the rain. As General Manager Michael Foulikes said, "no one complained as we need the rain across the state".

Instead, attendees got on with the business of raising $5000 by participating in a "challenging" game of bowls, raffles and a silent auction.

Cabra-Vale Diggers matched the money raised, pushing the total for this year's Charity Bowls Day to $10,000.

The annual tradition raises money for Liverpool Hospital's Wellness Centre, a comfortable and informal setting where cancer patients can take a much needed breath.

The Wellness Centre boasts a broad range of activities, including acupuncture, art workshops, exercise classes, gardening and more, though the money Fairfield City locals helped raise will fund children's educational programs for the next 12 months.