Our Vision

“Australia’s Premier Hospital”

Liverpool Hospital has been operating continuously since the end of the eighteenth century. It was originally run as a hospital for soldiers and convicts, starting as a tent hospital in the 1790’s. The first brick hospital was established in 1813 on a portion of land beside the Georges River. A larger stone hospital building was designed by Francis Greenway, built by convict labour and opened in 1825.

The Hospital is located in one of the fastest growing areas in the State, with more than one million people expected to reside in south western Sydney by 2016. Liverpool Hospital has capacity for 855 beds, 23 operating rooms and 60 critical care beds, as well as a comprehensive ambulatory centre and home of the Inghams Institute of Applied Medical Research.

With over 5000 staff, Liverpool Hospital campus is one of the biggest and busiest tertiary referral hospitals in the Australia providing a wide range of clinical specialities. We have a strong commitment to teaching and research across many disciplines.
