Anzac Day services

Anzac Day is a national day of remembrance that commemorates the Australians and New Zealanders who served and died in wars, conflict and peacekeeping operations.

The day is observed on 25 April each year and marks the first campaign that led to major casualties.

Our hospitals will mark the day on 23 and 24 April, ahead of the public holiday.

OPPORTUNITIES:

- Campbelltown Hospital's Anzac Day ceremony will be held from 2.30pm in the Memorial Garden on Wednesday 24 April, adjacent to the cafe. Key note speaker is Major David Czerkies who will speak about "The Meaning of Anzac Day"
- Liverpool Hospital's Anzac Day ceremony will be on from 10.30am in the Anzac Courtyard, adjacent to the main hospital foyer, on Wednesday 24 April. Dr John Crozier will complete the reflection
- Fairfield Hospital's Anzac Day service is on Tuesday 23 April from 11am in the courtyard at the Hospital where City of Fairfield RSL Sub-branch Senior Vice President Paul Bryant will oversee the proceedings
- Bankstown-Lidcombe Hospital's Anzac memorial service is Wednesday 24 April from 10.30am in the Anzac Courtyard, adjacent to Ward 2J. Bankstown RSL Sub-Branch President Terry Corcoran will complete the Anzac address

Please contact the media team on 8738 6848 if you would like to attend any of the abovementioned events.
