Mobile AstraZeneca clinics bring protection to you

Residents will have more opportunities to protect themselves from COVID-19 with mobile AstraZeneca vaccination clinics opening across south western Sydney and at a location near you.

No appointment is necessary to visit the mobile clinics which will deliver the AstraZeneca vaccine to community members in the Fairfield, Liverpool and Canterbury-Bankstown Local Government Areas.

From Monday 2 August, the mobile vaccination clinics will open 8.30am to 4.30pm and be located at:

- Chipping Norton Community Centre, Ascot Drive, Chipping Norton, on Mondays;
- Wattle Grove Community Centre, Village Way, Wattle Grove, on Tuesdays;
- Community Hall at Lao Cultural Centre, 711-715 Smithfield Road, Edensor Park, on Wednesdays;
- Michael Wenden Aquatic Leisure Centre, Cabramatta Avenue, Miller, on Thursdays;
- Michael Clarke Recreation Centre, 2 Margaret Dawson Drive, Carnes Hill, on Fridays; and
- Alamanah College (Mosalla mosque site) 35 Brancourt Avenue, Bankstown, Saturdays.

The District is also now operating the Prairiewood AstraZeneca Clinic at 194-222 Restwell Road, from 8am to 4.30pm, seven days a week.

Bi-lingual health workers will assist community members at the clinics and staff will also answer questions about AstraZeneca vaccination. Information flyers will also be available.

Bankstown-Lidcombe Hospital specialist and community leader Dr Ahmad Alrubaie said the mobile vaccination clinics were a great opportunity for residents to walk in and get their AstraZeneca vaccinations.

“The vaccination clinics are bringing this important protection to the community and I encourage everyone to take advantage of this opportunity,” Dr Alrubaie said.

“By getting vaccinated you are helping to protect yourself, your loved ones and the wider community from COVID-19.”

South Western Sydney Local Health District Chief Executive Amanda Larkin said the new mobile vaccination clinics were an important part of the national vaccine rollout.

“These new clinics will increase the capacity of our staff to administer the vaccine rollout in the District and to further protect our community,” Ms Larkin said.

The District is working in partnership with general practitioners and community pharmacies to offer vaccinations across South Western Sydney and the District has now administered more than 100,000 vaccinations.

It opened the South Western Sydney Vaccination Centre at Glenquarie Town Centre on Monday 26 July and has been operating the Liverpool Vaccination Clinic since February 2021.

District staff also operate testing clinics and health screening stations across south western Sydney. There are more than 410 COVID-19 testing locations across NSW, many of which are open seven days a week. To find your nearest clinic visit COVID-19 testing clinics or contact your GP.
